

What employers must know about emergency employment laws

Hartford Business Journal

04.15.2020

By: Michael C. Bingham, Hartford Business Journal

As small and not-so-small businesses try to stagger to the finish line of the coronavirus crisis and the resulting economic shutdown, most of the attention has been on the federal Paycheck Protection Program, the low-interest SBA loan initiative that promises companies quick cash if they keep their workforces intact until happy days are here again.

Read more...

ATTORNEYS

Stuart M. Katz

PRACTICE AREAS

Employment & Labor

